

Herculite Products Inc.

Powered by innovation, proven by performance.

For more than 70 years, Herculite Products has been a leader in manufacturing innovative flexible PVC composite textiles for both commercial and residential fabric applications that demand exceptional aesthetics, durability and return on investment.

Herculite manufactures many of the industry's leading awning, marine, tent and health care fabric brands. Our brands offer problem-solving and value-enhancing solutions for all stages of the supply chain from design to manufacturing, and ultimately the end-user. Our world-class reputation as a top fabric manufacturer was earned by focusing on innovation and continuous improvement as the means to provide outstanding value, quality, reliability and performance to our customers.

Our state-of-the-art manufacturing and innovation centers in Pennsylvania and Florida provide customers with advantages that are only possible when working with our U.S.-based resource for customer service, technical support and product development.

At Herculite, our mission is to help our customers grow their business by delivering products and services of exceptional value distinguished by their quality and innovation on time, every day. In return our customers reward us with the privilege of being their solution provider. Simple.
